Vote the Water and Sewer, Bonds

Editor Tribune:—Being a member of the real estate exchange. I desire to let it be known through the columns of your valuable paper that I was one of the minority when it came to a vote on the water-sewer bond proposition, and cast my vote in favor of the proposition now being presented to the tax payers of Sait Lake City by the honorable Mayor and City Council. I regret very much that a majority of the members present at that meeting took the stand that they did in opposing the measure, and believe that in time it will prove to be a mistake on their part. I believe that it was the unanimous verdict of the members of the exchange that the city should secure the water; the objection made be-was the unanimous verdict of the members of the exchange that the city should secure the water; the objection made being to the wording of the contract. It has ever been the wish of Salt Lake people that the city would secure the water of the Cottonwoods, and the Hon Mayor and City Council are to be congratulated on securing the option on these waters that they now hold.

The farmers demand that they write the contract; which they did, and aside from the manner of measurement of the water in case of failure to keep the contract good on the part of the city, it is intended to be fair, and this would-be objectionable clause in the contract I believe was not intended to read as it really does. I talked with a very reliable person yesterday who is interested in the Cottonwood waters, and he assured me that it was an error, and that there would be no objection on the part of the Cottonwood waters, and he assured me that it was an error, and that there would be no objection on the part of the farmers to measure the water every week or every day, if we so wished, and the last measurement to be the one used.

The Bonus and Premium.

The Bonus and Premium.

The bonus of $50,000 and 25 per cent more water to be given in exchange of Salt Lake canal water for the waters of Mill Creek and the Cottonwoods is little enough. While the farmers can make good use of the canal water, it is not of such special value to Salt Lake City, while the Cottonwood water for Salt Lake City, while the Cottonwood water for Salt Lake City is the choice of all our mountain streams. Some make the objection that we are paying out $50,000 for water and get absolute title to none. That is not true. The bulk of the money is to be expended for the conduit and other permanent improvements. The amount of cash paid out in exchange for this water is a mere bagatelle to what it might needs be five years hence. It seems to be the opinion of Mr. Dooly that we should buy this water outright, or such portion of it that we can, and get absolute title. Can we do this and take it out of the ditch to be detriment of the other water owners? They may, as a matter of right, claim that it is needed in the ditch to bear its portion of loss by seepage and evaporation. But under this contract the stock holders have authorized the officers of these two big ditches to sign this contract. It is the first and only opportunity we have ever had to secure this water. Hence, let us not get smart and want to do the selling as well as the buying, and lose this great opportunity to secure sufficient water for all time to come for our "Greater Salt Lake." which our real estate agents talk so much about. Yote the bonds so that the Honorable Mayor and City Council can make the trade and trust to them to see that it is a fair deal all around.

Ability to Deliver.

Ability to Deliver.

Ability to Deliver.

The question with the farmers seems to be as to the ability of Sait Lake City to deliver to them at all times, through this canal, the full amount of water contracted for, hence, have provided protection in the contract, which is proper and right that they should. We believe that Sait Lake City has an abundance of water to warrant the signing of this contract, and so soon as the deal is consummated prepare to keep the contract good at all times; secure tile to the Cottonwood lakes to held as a reserve in time of need, and, above all, secure the valuable Spring creek, upon which the city now holds an option, and exchange or lease it to the farmers to the best advantage possible until it is needed in the city.

change or lease it to the farmers to the best advantage possible until it is needed in the city.

In case the power or pumping plant at Utah lake breaks down and fails to deliver the goods which we traded for water, our city fathers should be prepared for the emergency and order the water commissioner to open wide the gates and see that the farmers' ditch is filled while the break is being repaired, for Sait Lake City cannot afford to wait tweive hours, as per contract to have the farmer enter complaint. Nor can we deford to do anything that is detrimental to the farmers' gardens and orchards, because we depend on them for what we feed upon. On the other hand, the farmer cannot afford to do anything that will retard the growth of Sait Lake City; it is the market for all their products, and to double the population of Sait Lake City in means better prices for their products and a doubling of the valuation of their lands.

Make no mistake; vote the bonds.

Japanese Reports Are Confirmed.

But Advices From Port Arthur Make the Damage Less.

Several of Larger Ships and Torpedo Boats Said to Be Seaworthy.

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 21.-While delining to give details, the admiralty admits that Russian advices from Port Arthur sent by Gen. Stoessel substantially confirmed the Japanese advices of the partial wrecking of the Russian ships in the harbor and the censor has been instructed to permit the publication of the dispatches

It is said that several of the larger

It is said that several of the larger ships and a respectable number of torpedo boat destroyers are still seawarthy, but they are not being considered as a factor in the coming light between Admiral Togo's ships and the Russian Second Pacific squadron.

The whole series of misfortunes which has attended the Port Arthur squadron is a bitter chapter in Russian naval annals, but since the arrival of the latest advices there has been less disposition to criticise Rear-Admiral Wiren's failure to make a sortle. Gen. Stoeszel having decided that further defense of the fortress would be impossible if the guns of the varships and the sailors landed were reembarked.

Had the ships been able to go out under the conditions existing they would have been at the mercy of the Japanese and have been sacrificed without hope of inflicting commensurate damage. If the fortress is relieved it is believed that most of the ships will be raised and saved.

most of the snips will be saved.

The reports that a Japanese squadron of forty vessels had already salled to meet the Second Pacific squadron is regarded at the admiralty here as being incerrect and circulated for a purpose.

CAPT. CLADO TALKS.

Makes Charges as to England's Antagonism to Russia.

PARIS, Dec. 21 -- Capt. Clado, who was detached from Vice-Admiral Rojestvensky's squadron to testify before the international commission, made statements during his journey to Paris that are exciting considerable stir in official and diplomatic circles as indicating a rather defiant and belligerent tone on the eve of the assembling of the commission.

Some of Clado's statements were strongly antagonistic to Great Britain, he occlaring that the British agitation over the North sea incident leading up to the appointment to the international commission, was a plan to delay the Russian Second Pacific aguadren from relieving Port Arthur. He also asserted that another campaign having for its object the passage of the Dardanelles by the Russian Black sea fleet will be launched at an opporture time.

In the meantime, he added, men and equipment from the Black sea fleet will be sent to aid the Second Pacific squalton. It was pointed out at the British embassy that Clado is not a member of the commission but only a witness and therefore no official cognizance will be taken of his statements. ternational commission, made statements

The Japanese, the correspondent adds, are employing thousands of coolies in making strong forts at Dainy and around Port Arthur. They express a determination to capture Port Arthur before the Chinese new year. An attack is now preparing that will be on a hitherto unequaled scale, and it will mean either success or terrible disaster to the besiegers. The correspondent concludes by saying that it is reported that Gen. Nogl has asked for 60,000 reinforcements from

But exception has been taken to a letter written by her to Mrs. J. W. Ure and which was designated as insulting. Mrs. Ure is president of the Relief society of the Fifteenth ward. When asked about this letter Mrs. Josephs said:

"Yes, I did write a letter to the woman who keeps the provisions but I did not know it was insulting. I simply wrote to her begging her to do something for me. I told her I had asked for help time and again and it had not come. I said in that letter that I would leave it with the Lord whether she had proved a true sister in the church to me when she could allow my little children to cry for bread. If that is insulting I did not know it.

"" " " I can not look to the Mormons for any help, for they have falled me in my greatest need."

J. W. Ure, whose wife was the recipient of the letter spoken of, called on The Tribune yesterday. He says:

"I wish to be set right with the readers of your paper and all those who know me. I have brought with me the letter and you may judge for yourself whether it could be called insulting."

He produced the letter, of which the following is a reprint:

"Madam—I understand you have been trying to injure me and my little ones. You have lied, and made me and my little ones suffer for bread, but you will never have the chance again. I never have met you, and I hope I never will, for I don't think it will be very good for you. Now all that is the matter with you refusing my little ones bread is because you want it for your own family. May God, and not me, do as he sees fit with you. You say I am not satisfied with anything. I think I have donated all I have had and more. I was more thankful, but now I know where I can get help and not go to the Twenty-fourth ward. I am very thankful to Brother Elder and Brother Bally and family. When my baby gets well, you have the privilege of proving your less. May God forgive you for your heartless ways, is my prayer.
